

Do not override Grid Conditional Formatting with Selected Row Highlighting Future Consideration

- MT Mathias Tabor
- Forum name: #SalesPad Products

Conditional Formatting in Grids (specifically Sales/Purchase Lines) is overridden by the selected row highlighting. This causes our order entry persons to occasionally miss the conditional formatting cue when there is only one line on an order.

A possible solution would be to highlight the column header for the selected column, and add a row indicator to the left side of the Grid, similarly to how Microsoft Excel denotes the current cell.

See Case 101741