Sales Monitor Filters/Customization Future Consideration

I was really looking forward to the new Sales Monitor Saved Filters option, and while it looks like a step in the correct direction to be able to quickly switch between which ques you have turned on, I was disappointed to discover that it does not save/allow you to have differing sorting/filtering of columns. It would be nice to be able to toggle between different saved Sales Monitor views that would allow a completely different configuration of columns, sorting, filtering, conditional formatting etc.
