New Carrier Options

Both FedEx and UPS have new default printing options available under the Carrier Editor.

The following FedEx options are available:

- Image Type: This updates what kind of image comes back from the request.
- Label Stock: This updates the size of the image that FedEx returns from the requests.
- Printing Orientation: This updates where printing starts on the label.

The screenshot shows the 'Carrier Editor' window with two tabs: 'Carrier Options' and 'Mappings'. The 'Carrier Properties' section includes fields for Carrier Name (FedEx_Parcel), Carrier Type (FedEx), Is Inactive (checkbox), and Write Back Rate (List). The 'Company Address' and 'Ship From Address' tabs are visible, with the 'Company Address' tab active. The 'Company Name' is SalesPad, and the address is 1202 Chalet Ln, Harrison, AR 72601, United States. The 'Carrier Options' tab shows fields for URL (https://wsbeta.fedex.com:443/web-services), Key (gyefhmSKhUHLRBSN), Password (masked), Account Number (510087305), and Meter Number (100010835). The 'Default Printing Properties' section shows Image Type (PNG), Label Stock (PAPER 4X6), and Printing Orientation (BOTTOM EDGE OF TEXT FIRST). Buttons for 'Copy Address >>', 'OK', and 'Cancel' are also visible.

The following UPS are also available:

- Image Type - This updates what kind of image comes back from the request.
- Label Size - This updates which of two sizes (4x6 or 4x8) the returned label should format to.

New Print Button

The Print button, now available as an option under Actions, allows the user to selectively choose desired portions of the printable types available:

The dialog that pops up from this menu can have a preview or standard dialog, dependent on which label type was referenced earlier.
