Emailing and Printing as a Single Job

Cavallo Support - 2025-10-01 - System

Overview

Users can send multiple printed reports for the same Customer, Purchase Order, or Sales Document in a single email, fax, or print job, from modules that permit bulk faxing or emailing (Sales Batch Processing, Sales Batch Line Processing, Sales Document Search). If documents for more than one customer are selected for print/fax/email, one email will be sent to each customer with only the customer's documents attached.

Usage

In Sales Batch Processing, you can select multiple sales documents and click on the "Print" button in the header. This brings up the "Printing Sales Document Report" screen:

The screenshot shows the 'Printing Sales Document Report' dialog box. On the left, under 'Print Options', the 'Print as Single Job' checkbox is checked and highlighted with a red box. Other options include 'Select All', 'Select None', 'Collate', 'Close after Print', 'Email as Single Job', 'Prevent Changes', 'Properties...', 'Mark Default Reports', and 'Print Attachments'. The 'Available Reports' table on the right lists various report types with checkboxes. At the bottom are buttons for 'Preview...', 'Print To...', 'Quick Print', and 'Close'.

IF EMAIL (OR FAX) IS CLICKED AND THE APPROPRIATE REPORT IS SELECTED:

If Email As Single Job and Print As Single Job are both checked, SalesPad will send 2 emails—one for each customer—with one customer's documents together as one attachment.

If Email As Single Job is checked, but Print As Single Job is not, SalesPad will send both customers a separate email with each of their documents attached separately.

If Email As Single Job is not selected, each document will be sent to the corresponding customer in a separate email, regardless of the Print As Single Job check box.

IF PRINT IS CLICKED AND THE APPROPRIATE REPORT IS SELECTED:

If Print As Single Job is selected, one print job will be created, and all documents will print together (regardless of the Email As Single Job check box).

If Print As Single Job is not checked, each selected document will print separately (regardless of the Email As Single Job check box).
